WATERVALE INN SINCE 1917

Dr Oscar Kraft purchased the abandoned lumber town of Watervale more than 100 years ago. The buildings were falling down but Dr. Kraft saw the potential in the beautiful natural surroundings. With the help of friends and family, Watervale was restored and began accepting guests. Since then Watervale has existed to bring families and friends together in our beautiful corner of the world. With our vintage cottages and incredible natural setting we have been able to provide a sanctuary in this ever changing world. The 2020 season tested many of our traditions but we are proud to say that our staff and guests rose to the challenge and we were able to create a summer that may have been different from the typical Watervale experience but was magical none the less.

We are looking forward to the 2021 season! With every challenge comes opportunity and last year gave us the chance to experiment with new ways of operating. Some of those changes will become permanent in the upcoming years. We certainly hope that 2021 will bring some relief to this pandemic but rest assured that we will continue to work hard to create a safe, relaxing and enjoyable respite from the outside world.
